Chippenham & District Metal Detecting Club (CDMDC) Newsletter

The CDMDC now has it's own photography Set up for all to use. T1 finds of the month will soon be seen by all, but first a new battery is required for the camera

This month club members were entertained with another talk from Mike Stone, the subject matter covering the:-

“CELTS AND ROMANS IN SOUTH WALES”

Mike has written and published books on local history and has made numerous radio broadcasts both nationally as well as specialist TV covering archaeology and heritage.

Catherine Mennell, T2 secretary and club member flew out to East Asia this month on a secret metal detecting trip but Kate forgot to pack her Deus II. Just joking.

Kate flew to Taipei staying for a week then two weeks in Japan then to Hanoi and is now currently seeing the sights in Bangkok.

The photograph left was taken showing the Taipei 101 World Trade Centre one time highest building in the world when built.

Found by Terry Kearton this month this stunning medieval silver seal has got a lot of attention by some experts, over just how old it is and who owned it. Another treasure find for the club

T2 member Matt Fenn won best find of the month with this Roman headstud brooch
